The property

Designed by local architect Jean-Marc Mouchet, Chalet Ellis blends naturally into its alpine surroundings and offers expansive modern living areas just steps from both the slopes and the village centre.
With 717 m
features six spacious en-suite bedrooms for 10 adults and 4 children, including a master suite as large as the main living area. Each bedroom is inspired by French perfume tones, decorated with elegant touches of gold, silver, white and beige.

The chalet's modern-alpine spirit showcases noble materials throughout: solid-wood flooring, horizontal split-beam cladding, raw concrete accents, brass details, traditional wool fabrics and refined combinations of suede and wool in every room.

A dedicated leisure floor includes a cinema room, bar and wine cellar. The luxurious spa features an indoor pool visible beneath a glass floor, along with a sauna, hammam, indoor jacuzzi, massage room and fitness area.
The top floor is home to the spectacular master suite — a serene retreat offering generous volumes, panoramic views, natural materials, high-tech features, a vast dressing room and a luminous bathroom.
