The property

Perched on the cliffs of Es Cubells on Ibiza's southern coast, Villa Pajaro seems to float above the sea. It overlooks the cove of Es Cubells with an unobstructed view south to Formentera. A private access leads directly to the water, with mooring for large boats, and the nearest sandy beach is a five-minute walk away. The Ses Boques restaurant is also within walking distance, offering a meal without needing a car.

The villa spans 500 m
7,000 m
an en-suite bathroom, private terrace, and sea view. Three of the bedrooms are master suites with WiFi and a safe. The layout works well for several couples or a family, providing both shared spaces and privacy.

The terraces are the heart of the house: multiple levels for dining, lounging, and watching the sunset. The private sea access with a pontoon for large boats turns the villa into a launch point for exploring nearby coves. Private parking for five cars is available. Services include a butler, private chef, and housekeeper, so guests can focus entirely on the experience.

Every terrace gives the sensation of being on a boat, suspended bet...
